The conference dinner tonight is at the Vancouver Aquarium. I was lucky to get a ticket, but it was expensive, so many of the sleuths or other folks I know will do their own thing. So I am now on a bus with unfamiliar people

But I am very excited to visit the aquarium!
Lots of IEEE wallpaper not sure if are they sponsoring our dinner or the Aquarium?

I have been at conferences where they offer a dinner for € 200-250.

So all the government people go there instead of those who know about the topic.

The aquarium is great, Elies. I think you'll like it!

It was great! Did not get to see it all, as I just kept running into people to talk to.

Sad I didn't run into you! Would have loved to chat more, with wine, in front of cute seals. Fun evening though, I think, eh?
